Company: Chelsea Jean Lamm

Location: Suburb of Munich, Germany (30 minutes outside of city centre)

About Us:

Chelsea Jean Lamm is a visionary fashion house based in Munich, Germany, specializing in couture collections that blend contemporary artistry with innovative designs. Our atelier is a hub of creativity and craftsmanship, where each garment is meticulously crafted by skilled artisans. We are committed to fostering talent and providing hands-on experience to aspiring fashion professionals with a strong focus on ethical responsibility, slow fashion and craftsmanship.

Description:

We are offering an exciting Atelier Internship opportunity for individuals passionate about wearable art and eager to gain professional experience in a dynamic atelier environment. As an intern at Chelsea Jean Lamm, you will work closely with our design team on our upcoming couture collection, contributing to various aspects of the design and production process. This internship is tailored to the ambitions and skills of the applicant, providing valuable insights into the world of high fashion.

Responsibilities:

- Collaborate with the design team on the development and execution of the collection.
- Engage in various types of craftsmanship and handwork, including embroidery, weaving, beading and fabric manipulation.
- Assist in pattern making and garment construction, ensuring precision and quality.
- Source materials, coordinating with suppliers to fulfill design requirements.
- Contribute to graphic design tasks, including creating technical sketches and mood boards.
- Work on special projects and custom-designs based on individual skills and interests.
- Maintain a clean and organized workspace, adhering to atelier standards and protocols.
- Assist in fittings and alterations, providing support to the design team as needed.

Requirements:

- Pursuing or completed a degree in fashion or a related field.
- Exceptional handwork skills, with a keen eye for detail.
- Patient, innovative, and curious mindset, with a hands-on approach to learning multidisciplinary skills and techniques.
- Proficient in pattern-making and machine sewing techniques.
- Strong time management and organizational skills.

Benefits:

- Gain invaluable professional experience and responsibility in our atelier.
- Work closely with experienced designers and artisans on high-profile projects.
- Tailored internship program designed to enhance individual skills and interests.
- Opportunity to contribute to the creation of a couture collection from start to finish.
- Potential for career advancement and professional development within the fashion industry.

If you are passionate about high-end fashion and eager to embark on an enriching internship experience, we invite you to join us at Chelsea Jean Lamm.
